General Information

Event Description

Zenkaikon, a local convention celebrating Japanese culture, animation (anime), comics, and video gaming is returning to Valley Forge for its third year on October 17th through 18th, 2008. It promises a variety of programming including panels, video screenings, costume contests, gaming tournaments, concerts, dances, and more.

Some 2008 guests include award-winning science fiction author C.J. Henderson, voice actor Bill Rogers (Gravitation, His and Her Circumstance, The Third), voice actress Michelle Knotz (Pokémon, The World of Narue), Asian rock band The Slants, and Philadelphia's own IkuZo! Studios.

Zenkaikon is primarily staffed by members of the Delaware Anime Society – a local anime club with branches in Delaware and Willow Grove, Pennsylvania – with assistance from The Lost Otakus anime club in West Chester, Pennsylvania.

History

Background

Zenkaikon was founded by the merger of two local events, Kosaikon – an anime convention held at Villanova University – and Zentrancon – an anime and science fiction convention held on the University of Pennsylvania campus. Kosaikon held its first event in 2003, where 75 individuals came together to celebrate their interest in Japanese animation. Zentrancon's debut convention took place in October 2005, when 350 people came to Philadelphia to watch anime and science fiction screenings, meet celebrity guests, and participate in video gaming.

The decision to merge was originally proposed as both conventions wanted to expand, and realized that, together, they could create an even more fun and exciting event for anime fans in the Philadelphia area. Thus, in 2006, Zentrancon became Zenkaikon, and moved to the larger venue of the Valley Forge Scanticon Hotel and Conference Center in King of Prussia, PA. This year will make the convention's third at the Center. Last year's convention had 570 attendees, over a 50% increase since 2005, and the staff of Zenkaikon hopes to continue that trend in 2008. With a pre-registration list that is nearly 300% of last year's, it appears that they are off to a promising start.

Zenkaikon is staffed completely by volunteers, many of whom are young (under the age of 40), and all of whom want to share their appreciation for Japanese popular culture with the Philadelphia region. Japanese animation (anime) is a genre that attracts people of all ages and backgrounds. International sales of anime in 2007 reached US$2.26 billion¹. In addition, the ten largest anime conventions in the U.S. attracted well over 150 thousand fans last year. While Zenkaikon is still small compared to the largest conventions, its staff hopes that by growing slowly each year, they can build an event that will continue to be an integral part of culture in the Philadelphia region for many years to come.

Guests

Musical Guests

The Slants

The Slants are an Asian rock band that hails from Portland, Oregon. The band has over 2,500 live performances collectively, and has worked with producer Jack Edino (Nirvana, Soundgarden, Murder City Devils) as well as shared the stage with Nine Inch Nails, Joey Ramone, Zeke, and The Black Halos. Their sound is self-described as “A cross between The Faint, Joy Division, Gang of Four, Depeche Mode, and the Kill Bill soundtrack. You know, shooting and killing and sweet, sweet revenge.” They have just released their first album Slanted Hearts, Slanted Minds, which immediately caught the attention of international mass media. The Slants will have their first northeast coast performance at Zenkaikon.

Ultraball

Playing a variety of genres from punk rock to reggae, synth-pop to metal, Ultraball strives to capture the unique spirit of each Pokémon in song, just as a masterful trainer would in battle. With karaoke-style performances to their own original music, and sequenced multimedia video from the Pokémon anime, everyone can count on a great time packed with tons of movement and excitement.

Film Makers

IkuZo! Studios

Philadelphia's own IkuZo! Studios is responsible for bringing us Fighter's High, a comedic martial arts live-action series. This series is created and co-written by Christopher A. Ryons and co-written by Kevin Siter, with SFX/Digital FX by James Panetta and fight choreography by Joey Min of Team Fist Styles.

IkuZo! Studios is looking forward to premiering their works at Zenkaikon 2008.

Voice Actors

Michelle Knotz

A native of the New Jersey Shore, Michelle Knotz has always had a passion for acting. She was cast in her first voice-acting role in 2003, as Hajime Yagi in The World of Narue. Since then, she has voiced Takako Kawashima in Shootfighter Tekken, Matsumoto and various additional characters in To Heart, and Razali, Cindy, Greta, and The Fairy in The Third. In 2006, Michelle landed the lead roles of Jessie, May, Misty, and Nurse Joy for the Pokémon 10th Anniversary Special The Mastermind of Mirage Pokémon, and continued to voice these characters throughout Season 9 of Pokémon, the Battle Frontier. She has also voiced the characters May, Jessie, and Manaphy for the Pokémon movie Pokémon Ranger and the Temple of the Sea, and the lead character, Chikorita in the Pokémon special Pokémon Mystery Dungeon, Team Go-Getters Out of the Gate. Along with human characters, she has voiced various Pokémon in the series such as Squirtle, Bulbasaur, Chimecho, Beautifly, Masquerain, Dustox, Cacnea, Mudkip, and many others. Finally, Michelle voiced the Pokémon Trainer, Squirtle, and various other Pokémon in the just-released Nintendo Wii game Super Smash Brothers Brawl.

You can catch Michelle as May, Jessie, Misty and Nurse Joy at www.pokemonlearningleague.com, an interactive web site dedicated to educating children in Math, Science and Language Arts.

Bill Rogers

Since 2001, Bill has been providing voices for characters in some of the most popular anime series. Anyone who has watched KO Beast, His and Her Circumstances, Madara, To Heart, Gokudo, or Comic Party has probably heard his voice. Rogers is best known, however, for his work in Gravitation (Touma Seguchi), Boogiepop Phantom (Yamamoto), Genshiken (Tanaka Souichiro), Shingu (Kanata Mouken) and more recently in The Third (Kevin). He can also be heard on Saturday mornings as the voice of Brock in Pokémon, (as well as various creatures that appear in that show).

Outside of the anime field, Bill has worked on the children's show Tarchin and Friends, and the series of Universal Safety Squad educational films.

In the world of video games, Bill has lent his voice to the X-Box game Bullet Witch and M&M's Kart Racing on the Wii console. He has also voiced various Pokémon including Bonsly, Weavile and the legendary Lucario in the Wii smash hit Super Smash Brothers Brawl.

Writers

CJ Henderson

CJ Henderson is the Origins Award-winning creator of the Teddy London supernatural detective series, as well as the author of over 50 books and novels, including such diverse titles as The Encyclopedia of Science Fiction Films, The Field Guide to Monsters, and Baby's First Mythos. Over the past 30 years he has also written hundreds of short stories and comics, as well as thousands of non-fiction articles.

Comedians

Karl ("Uncle Yo") Custer

Having just discovered the horrific elements that go into the alchemy of a Twinkie, Uncle Yo returns to Zenkaikon to fulfill your comedic needs. Now a veteran of conventions throughout the East Coast, Yo comes prepared with new stand-up material on video games, anime, manga, comic books, table-top gaming, and zombies.

Web Comic Artists

Jessi Bavalack and Matt Pascal

One night after staying home and getting drunk, Matt Pascal and Jessi Bavalack realized that they were geeks in love. Having nothing better to do, they decided to create a web comic to chronicle the crazy events that either happened or were imagined in their lives. Thus, Geeks Next Door was born. Jessi draws amusing pictures while Matt comes up with funny things to say. See what's new in the lives of the comic couple at www.geeksnextcomic.com.

Charles Batschelet

Charles Batschelet is the writer and illustrator of Subpar. Subpar is Charles' outlet for his creativity and his first attempt at a web comic. It has developed since its start in October 2006 into a comic with a good core following. The characters are all aspects of Charles' personality (such as mischief, or dry sarcastic humor), or those people who are special to his life. Check out the latest adventures of Pursey, Par, Squint and Bunny at www.subparcomic.com.

Laura and Will Robinson

While wandering in Tokyo, Wilfred and Laura Robinson conceived of an idea to start a web comic to chronicle their exploits. The idea was tragically lost in a Godzilla-monster attack. Months later, safely back in America, the stubborn idea found its way back to them, and interrupted one of their weekly Dungeons and Dragons gaming sessions. The comic and the game merged into one entity when the hilariously funny Michael Gans joined them as a writer. Thus was born Friday Knights, where humor meets critical failure. Come join them at www.friday-knights.net.

Convention Policies

All attendees of Zenkaikon 2008 are expected to abide by the following rules and guidelines.

Rowdy or Disruptive Behavior

The staff of Zenkaikon strives to create a safe and family friendly environment for the convention. In order to do this, we need the participation of our members in stopping rowdy or disruptive behavior.

- No running in the hallways.
- No loitering in the center of the hallways. Please sit on the couches and chairs at the sides of the hallways to cut down on hallway congestion.
- No yelling or screaming in the hallways, panel rooms, video rooms, etc.
- Limit the amount of public affection (e.g. French kissing).
- No “Truth or Dare,” “Spin the Bottle,” or other inappropriate games inside the convention area.
- No smoking or consuming alcohol inside the convention (defined as our official areas in the downstairs of the Scanticon). Smoking may be done outside of the Scanticon in the designated areas.
- No roughhousing or wrestling.
- Please wait patiently in line. If someone is caught cutting in line, they will be sent to the back of the line. Please do not block entrances or exits with the line; leave a gap there.
- No nudity or profanity. The dress code for this convention is PG-13. Zenkaikon is a family-friendly event and attendees are asked to dress accordingly. Zenkaikon staff reserves the right to ask an attendee to change clothes if their clothing is deemed inappropriate.
- No panhandling or selling (except for the dealers and artists).

- No entering any area that is specifically labeled “Staff Only.” This also includes sitting in chairs at doors that are reserved for Zenkaikon staff and gophers to check badges, or sitting at any other staff-only post.
- Noglomping, hugging, or touching other attendees without their permission.
- No entrance to the convention before the posted hours of operation. If you arrive early, please wait in the lobby of the Scanticon until the registration desk is open.
- We also prohibit any other behavior that we may have neglected to mention in the list, but that involves violating someone’s personal space or doing things that common sense dictates you should not do.

Cameras and Photography

Most areas of Zenkaikon allow photography, unless otherwise specified. Additionally, there are some photo guidelines we request that attendees follow:

- No harassing guests or attendees for photos of or with them. It is proper procedure to first ask if you may take a photo. If they decline, please respect their request.
- No harassing minors or small children for photos or attention.
- Please be considerate when stopping to take photos in the hallway by making the photo stop short and not blocking the main flow of hallway traffic.

Signs Policy

- No solicitation signs (“Glomps for Free”, etc.).
- Other types of signs are only allowed if they are an integral part of a costume (such as the sign carried by Genma the Panda in Ranma ½).

Etiquette with Guests

- Autographs are limited to two items per person.
- Guests will not sign any bootleg or illegal item. Please bring licensed items only.

- If you are having a CD autographed, please remove the CD insert before you reach the front of the line to save time.
- Please have whatever item you want autographed ready to be signed by the time you reach the front of the line.
- Do not take up a lot of the guests' time when you reach the front of the line. To save time, think of what you want to say to the guest as having a 30 second limit, and try writing it down before you get there.
- Special policy for press: If you would like to interview one of our guests, please notify us at zenkaikon@gmail.com as soon as possible, so that we can arrange a time with the appropriate parties.

Weapons Policy

- No guns are allowed, whether they are real or fake. The Scanticon Hotel and Conference Center has asked that there be no toy or prop guns of any kind (including airsoft guns, flare guns, etc.).
- No live steel is allowed. We define "live steel" as any objects made of metal that is capable of taking an edge, whether or not the object is actually sharp, and whether or not the object is sheathed.
- Weapons purchased in the dealers room must remain boxed and immediately removed to your car, room or other private quarters.
- No nunchaku.
- No explosives or chemicals of any kind including, but not limited to, smoke powder, sparklers, and fireworks.
- Types of fake weapons that are allowed: Wooden swords including boken, bo sticks, and shinai are allowed. Anything made of paper mache or other material that is not dangerous to others (e.g. has no sharp edges, or parts sticking out that might trip people as they walk by) is allowed. Please use common sense. If you would not take your item on public transportation in plain sight, then you should not have it.
- Any metal chains are to be less than three feet (3'). This includes, but is not limited to, chain wallets or chains on non-costume clothing.
- All weapons and large props that are over three feet (3') in any direction must be bonded. In other words, they must be inspected by a member of Zenkaikon staff and then tied with a piece of colored string or tape at the registration desk. If you do not have your weapon or prop with you at registration, find a member of the convention staff when you bring it in, and they will find someone who can bond it for you.

- The maximum prop size is five feet (5').
- Misuse of your prop such as swinging it or endangering others with it will result in Zenkaikon staff asking you to remove the prop from the Convention Center.

Children at Zenkaikon

- We recommend that all children under the age of 18 attend with a parent or guardian.
- Anyone under the age of 13 is required to have a parent or guardian with them at all times.
- We do not charge admission for children under the age of 6 to come to Zenkaikon.
